The TOPIX is designed to broadly measure the performance of the Japanese stock market. The free-float adjusted market capitalization-weighted index covers all stocks listed on the First Section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Index performance returns do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs, or expenses. Indices are unmanaged.

Important Information

Risk of Investing

Investing involves risk, including the risk of total loss of principal. Please consider the following risks before investing in the ETF.

Smaller Companies

Investments in smaller companies typically exhibit higher volatility.

International Markets

International markets involve political, social, economic and currency risks.

Active Management Risk

The Adviser's judgments about the attractiveness, value, or potential appreciation of the Fund's investments may prove to be incorrect.

New Fund Risk

Because the Fund is new, investors bear the risk that it may not be successful in implementing its investment strategy, employ a successful investment strategy, or may fail to attract sufficient assets under management. This could result in the Fund being liquidated at any time.

Geographic Focus Risk

The Fund focuses its investments in a single country and as a result, it may be subject to greater price volatility and risk of loss.

*Definition of Terms

Weighted Average Market Cap

The average market capitalization of all companies in a fund/index, with each company weighted according to its percent held in the fund/index.

Price/Earnings (P/E Trailing 12 Months)

P/E ratio is a ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its per-share earnings (EPS) for the past 12 months. P/E ratios are used by investors and analysts to determine the relative value of a company's shares in an apples-to-apples comparison.

Price/Book (P/B)

P/B measures the market capitalization of a company relative to its book value of equity. Widely used among the value investing crowd, the P/B ratio can be used to identify undervalued stocks in the market.
